Calloway Farm Bureau Wins Award For Membership Gain

The gold trophy, now on display at the County Farm Bureau Office, was given to Colonel B. W. Edwards during the special Recognition and Awards program on Tuesday morning during the State Convention at the Kentucky Hotel in Louisville.

Blood Test Is Developed To Detect Cancer

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17 (AP)—Three Ohio doctors report they have developed a new blood test for detecting cancer which has proved at least 90 per cent accurate in more than 1,700 cases. The test is based on thickening of blood plasma. It can disclose evidence of early cancer as well as hidden types of the disease, the report said.

The studies were made by Drs. James A. Quinn, Stanley A. Katz and Arthur E. Rappaport of the department of pathology and laboratory of the Youngstown Hospital Association, Youngstown, Ohio. Their findings were reported on Wednesday in the current issue of the American Journal of Clinical Pathology.

The National Cancer Institute, a government agency, announced here that it has had no conclusions of the test. It said it is now evaluating the test.

Official of the Institute said a great number of the cancer have been developed but no general test has been found thus far that would be useful in screening large numbers of people for cancer.

Early detection of cancer is important for treatment. Cancer experts long have said they can cure many types of the disease if its presence is known soon enough.

The Ohio doctors called their test "practical for mass screening," inexpensive, rapid and easily mastered by medical technologists.

They said changes in blood serum, easily measured by optical methods, indicated there were "distinct differences" between blood serum of persons with and without cancer. Differences were found in the optical densities of the plasma after clotting had been removed.

Vast Cold Wave Hits With Icy Winds; Lashes South

By UNITED PRESS

A vast cold wave lashed the Midwest with icy, ale-free winds and bit deep into the heart of the Southland today.

The worst blast hit Michigan, where gale-force 70-mile-per-hour winds accounted for the death of two Detroit men. One was killed when the wind toppled a 30-foot wall on him, and the other perished when a sheet of steel was blown on him while he was working on a construction scaffold.

Scores of hunters were feared stranded in the state's snow-blanketed northern woods and state legislators meeting in a special session at Lansing Wednesday night were unable to drive out of the city. The high winds stranded 30 freighters at the mouth of Lake Erie and Great Lakes shipping was virtually halted.

Winds Lash Chicago

Gale force winds also lashed Chicago, injuring three persons, and in Wisconsin small crafts searched for two hunters missing since high winds whipped peaceful Green Bay into a frenzy. Two other hunters were brought to safety after a search of several hours on Wisconsin's Lake Winnebago.

In Minnesota, 400 pieces of equipment were called out to clear northern highways of eight to 10 inches of wind-whipped snow while flash floods added to the misery in Ohio and Indiana.

The Miami River swirled up near Dayton, Ohio, after 2.87 inches of rain, forcing the evacuation of residents in three housing developments. The river kept rising at a rate of nine inches an hour and rescue units were alerted for major evacuations.

In central and southern Indiana, more than four inches of rain rent flash floods swirling across highways, washed out bridges, and forced evacuations south of Indianapolis and Franklin. Patients were moved from the lower floors at Johnson County Hospital and water poured over the sidewalks at Anderson.

Temperatures plunged towards expected lows of 10 above in the Midwest and skidded 11 degrees in 15 minutes at Atlanta, Ga. At Warrior, Ala., the mercury went from 81 to 56 in an hour late Wednesday and Tuscaloosa, Ala., reported a 60-minute plunge from 78 to 60.

It was the first major cold wave of the season and came on the heels of record-breaking Indian summer weather. Temperatures have dropped 40 to 50 degrees in one day's time in the Midwest while in the southeast it was still warm enough Wednesday to break records at Greensboro, N.C., and Richmond, Va.

The East Coast was expected to feel the cold wave's bite today. The U.S. Weather Bureau predicted falling temperatures as far south as central Florida and from 15 to 10 inches of snow in western New York state.

Mrs. Watson Is Chairman Of Seal Sale

Mrs. J. B. Watson, of the Home Department of the Murray Woman's Club is serving as chairman of the 1955 Christmas Seal Sale to raise funds for tuberculosis control in Murray and Calloway County.

Accepting the appointment from Mrs. G. B. Scott, president of the Calloway County Tuberculosis Association, Mrs. Watson said, the Tuberculosis Association's year round efforts to eradicate tuberculosis deserves the support of every citizen in this community.

Christmas Seal funds, she points out, pay the local expenses of the tuberculosis trailer, furnish further x-rays for those unable to finance themselves. Provide materials for educational purpose, and makes a contribution to the local Health Department budget.

The Association also maintains an intensive search for the undiagnosed cases that are such a menace.

In 1955 the Calloway County Tuberculosis Association contributed approximately $140.00 to the above mentioned which lead to the prevention, discovery of new cases and eradication of existing cases in Calloway County.

The health services carried on throughout the United States by the 3,000 voluntary tuberculosis associations affiliated with the National Tuberculosis Association coordinated their efforts with the work of the local tuberculosis department and hospitals. Together they bring about the defeat of this disease. I am proud to be associated with such an effort.

The work of the local Tuberculosis Association has been sponsored for many years by the Home Department of Murray Woman's Club.

Methodist Men Addressed By W. O. Inman

"Extend your hand to all men" was the challenge issued by W. O. Inman, Superintendent of City Schools of Paris, Tennessee, as he addressed a large group of Methodist men at their regular meeting on Wednesday, November 16.

"No man is an island to himself" and each individual is a part of all he meets, Mr. Inman told the group. He stated that every man was closely tied up with every other man with this new relationship being brought about through travel, new developments and better means of communication. Mr. Inman expressed the view that the greatest need of the church is to be more informed about the church and its activities with regard to its opportunity to extend a helping hand to all men thus bringing men closer together.

In discussing the growth of the church to meet the expanding needs of the people, Mr. Inman added that "Man is just touching the surface in growth." He explained that the church will grow strong as the district grows strong.

At the regular business session of the club, the various committee chairmen and their assistants discussed plans relating to the club activities for the coming year.

Harvey Ellis, club president, stated that an effort would be made to get at least twenty additional members before the year ended.

It was announced that the December meeting will be held at 6:15 instead of the usual 6:30 time on a date to be announced later.

The sixteen Junior members now thirteen years of age were promoted to the Junior Miss Club effective with the Christmas parties.

Following the meeting the group went to the drug store for refreshments.

BOB GILBERT

Howard "Hopalong" Cassidy almost accepted a scholarship to the University of Kentucky. He also had this from Wisconsin and Notre Dame, but, as "Hoppy" puts it, "my mind was in those other places, out my heart was at Ohio State."

Cassidy scored three brilliant touchdowns last week in State's wild ramp over Iowa. State cut 50 to his exchanges this victory and prevent Michigan from going to the "rose-bowl" game at Pasadena, California, on Jan. 7.

"Vinegar Bend" Mirell, St. Louis Cardinal hurler who has just returned from the Army, is specially trimming back into shape for the 1956 baseball season. He is playing for Havana in the Cuban League—has a record of 2 wins and 1 loss.

Major league deals this week and last—The Cleveland Indians traded first baseman Jerry Mauer to the Kansas City Athletics. Mauer put a double deal in purchasing four pitchers—two from the Minnesota Twins and releasing first baseman Don Adkins to the same club. The Boston Red Sox traded pitchers Dick Brodowski, Al Curtis, Arman Cleveland, and outfielders Karl Olson and Earl Gargner to Washington for first baseman Mickey Vernon, outfielder Don Uggans, and pitchers Bob Feller and Johnny Schmitz.

Pro football may move into Kansas City—Athletics owner Arnold
Johnson has indicated that he is vitally interested in acquiring a N-F-L franchise.

Three Iowa football stars: All-American guard Calvin Jones, end Frank Williams, and halfback Eddie Vincent were 11 team-mates at St. Louisville High School in Ohio. Last week's game with Ohio State shows they chose the wrong school.

Prognosticators paragon (or everything) and forecast a knowledge put the skins on the supposedly positive, this vintage season. The Mountaineers' offense was supposed to be the key to the season in the N-F-L—apparently, it hasn't been so good.
Other upsets—Dartmouth slipped up in Columbia. Princeton rebounded on Yale. U-O once again proved as the South's best power by losing to Kansas. Oklahoma's Aggies, Arkansas' single wing proved too much for the S-M-U Mustangs.

GIL ELECTIONS—

S-E-C—Tennessee over Kentucky by 20 pts.
Auburn over Texas A-M by 7 pts.
Vanderbilt over Florida by 19 pts.
L-S-U over Arkansas by 6 pts.
EAST—Yale over Harvard by 13 pts.
Syracuse over West Virginia by 10 pts.
Pittsburgh over Penn State by 11 pts.
Boston over Temple by 26 pts.
Rutgers over Columbia by 18 pts.
Pittsburgh over Dartmouth by 12 pts.
SOUTH—Maryland over George Washington by 22 pts.
Florida State over the Citadel by 26 pts.
Dartmouth over Furman by 12 pts.
North Carolina over Virginia by 9 pts.
MIDWEST—Oklahoma over Nebraska by 26 pts.
Notre Dame over Iowa by 3 pts.
Michigan State over Marquette by 44 pts.
Wisconsin over Minnesota by 10 pts.
Purdue over Indiana by 17 pts.
Kansas State over Oklahoma A & M by 41 pts.
Colorado over Iowa State by 10 pts.
Colorado over Tulsa by 12 pts.
SOUTHWEST—T-C-U over Rice by 25 pts.
Baylor - S-M-U (tie game).
Houston over Villanova by 5 pts.
Texas Tech over College of Pacific by 7 pts.
FAR WEST—U-C-L-A over Southern California by 7 pts.
Oregon State over Oregon by 19 pts.
Stanford over California by 19 pts.
Arizona over New Mexico by 14 pts.
Colorado A & M over Brigham Young by 13 pts.
Idaho over Montana by 12 pts.
Washington over Washington State by 27 pts.
TOP GAME IN O.V.A. - Western over Murray by 6 pts.

The top game of the week will be the traditional battle between Ohio State and Michigan. From here, it looks as if the game will be determined by the offensive might of both clubs. Ohio State is spaced by halfbacks LeVern "Hopalong" Cassidy and Jerry Harrison, two excellent pig-skin toilers. Michigan boasts the powerful combination of halfbacks Terry Earl and Tony Granoff, and All-American end Ron Klauser. It should be quite a game with scoring a plenty. An additional highlight—Michigan wins, she will win the 64-10 bet and the trip to the Rose Bowl. But if Ohio State wins, Michigan State will go to the Rose Bowl. Even though Ohio State wins the conference championship. At any rate, I select the Ohio State Buckeyes to coach Woody Hayes to beat the Wolverines of Michigan by 6 points.

By STEVE SNIDER
United Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) - All-American football memo:

Howard Hopalong Cassidy, a four-year veteran at Ohio State, is closing out his final campaign by going to his last game as the
No. 1 candidate for the 1955
America team.

The 21-year-old Buckeye star, one of the few players in history with an excellent record in his first years, is looking another year for his extra special performance against Iowa last Saturday and was named today as one of the Big Four in the United Press Backfield of the Week.

Selected with Cassidy were Jimmy Swink of Texas Christian, Johnny Majors of Tennessee, and sophomore Bob Mitchell of Illinois.

Cassidy, with one game at Michigan still to go, played his last game before the home folks at Columbus Ohio to a standing ovation from more than 82,000 spectators. He turned in a suggested Iowa. He scampered a total of 109 yards, including runs of 45, 11, and three yards for all three Buckeye touchdowns in a 20-10 victory over the Hawkeyes.

Terrific All Season
Swink was even more prolific though the opposition, possibly less formidable, as he rolled 23 yards and four touchdowns—one, 62, 57, and 33 yards against Texas. Swink, like Cassidy, has been terrific all season and merely in fits.

Charles, who is only 20 years old, is a little longer, the brand new from Illinois - Mitchell - might become the hottest candidate of the week. First named loose against Michigan last week, Mitchell reappeared again Saturday by heaving 1,000 yards, Wisconsin - scoring two touchdowns and setting up a field goal with a 38-yard run in a 17-14 victory.

Tommy McDaniels of Oklahoma and Ed Verb of Maryland, two other top candidates, came through with their usual capable effort.
McDaniels scored twice again last Saturday, once going 91 yards with a punt, while Verb counted twice in a tough game against Tennessee.

Butte - Known Players
Paul Hurnung of Notre Dame,
Lenny Moore of Penn State, George Welsh of Navy, and Bob Hacy of Kentucky were among the better-known players who had good

Len Dawson of Purdue added more lustre to his passing record and threw three scoring passes against Northwestern while Howell Tubbs of Auburn, recently hitting the headlines consistently, had one touchdown pass and booted the field goal that linked Georgia, 18-13.

Owen-Cook Vows Read In Ceremony At Calvary Church

NATH Moore: In a candlelight service at the Calvary Baptist Church, Paducah, on Friday, October 28, Miss Catherine Owen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Owen, Murray, was united in marriage to Lowell E. Cook, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Cook, Metropolis, Ill. Rev. Clay P. Roach performed the double ring ceremony before a large gathering of relatives and friends of the young couple.

The organist, Miss Beba Barnhill, presented a program of musical numbers preceding the ceremony, and the traditional wedding march was used for the processional and recessional. Miss Juanita Barnhill was soloist. The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose for her wedding gown a ballerina length gown of brocade satin. The fitted bodice was fashioned with a sweetheart neckline with a stand-up collar. Her fingertip veil was attached to a crown of baby seed pearls. Her jewelry was a necklace and earrings of baby pearls and she carried an orchid on a white ribbon.

First Miss Patsy Guilliam attended to the bride as maid of honor. She was attired in a ballerina length gown of pale green tulle and fastened with a strapless bodice. Stained with a strapless bodice, she wore a bouffant skirt over a green satin. She carried a bouquet of yellow baby mums, with yellow streamers of satin and nylon net. Mrs. Owen, mother of the bride, wore a black dress with black accessories. Her corsage was of pink carnations. Her mother, Mrs. Cook, mother of the groom, wore a black dress with black accessories. Her corsage was of pink carnations. Her mother, Mrs. Cook, mother of the groom, wore a black dress with black accessories. Her corsage was of pink carnations.

Women Have More Interest In Politics

By ELIZABETH TOOMEY

United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK — When women want something, they will outwait, outwork and outfox their competition to get it.

Now we have a fresh young generation of women who want careers in politics. They have political backgrounds their mothers can't match. They grew up, unlike their mothers, in households where women voted as often as the men and did more of the doorbell-ringing drudgery than men had time for in political campaigns.

A training course for these young women with political ambitions opens here this week, specifically designed for the girl who thinks she would like to run for office some day.

The first half dozen girls to sign up for the course have interesting similarities. They have the patience to take the long route to public office; they have demonstrated they are willing to work hard as volunteers in political campaigns; they are well educated — and in almost every case their own mothers were active political volunteer workers.

Terrifically Hard Future
"We assume their enthusiasm will last," said Helen Hobert, a member of the women's national Republican Club which is sponsoring the course for its own chosen a terrifically hard future. It is hard physically and emotionally. We want them to understand what they're up against."

The club agreed to organize the course for its junior group of women members, ranging in age from 17 to 35, after numerous requests. They contacted eight high-ranking women in politics, including Sen. Margaret Chase Smith R-Me., Rep. Katharine St. George R-NY and Rep. Edith Nourse Rogers R-Mass for advice.

Mrs. St. George sent word from Washington that "you must have a sense of humor and the hide of a rhinoceros. Politics is no place for the over-sensitive."

Mrs. Smith's words of advice which will be read to the ambitious young women at one of the classes, reminded them that "politics is simply home operation on a large scale. Home is government in miniature. The operation of government is not unlike in principle, the basic operation of keeping a home well-regulated."

Indispensable Qualities
Mrs. Rogers listed the qualities indispensable to a woman politician as "character, courage, health, patience, intelligence and a desire to serve."

Barbara Witzell, a 23-year-old "Girl Friday" in an advertising agency here and one of the 25 young women expected to show up for the first class Thursday night, says she "certainly" hopes to run for Congress some day.

Womanlike, though, these young political aspirants reserve the right to change their minds. They do not put a career above everything.

One of the early registrants dropped out three days ago. She got engaged.

"Would your boyfriend object to your going into politics?" she was asked when she resigned from the course. She had been one of the girls most adamant about wanting to run for office.

"Oh, no," she said, "but I just don't think I'll have time."

STRIPED CORN

LIMA, Peru — Popcorn may soon come in multi-colored stripes. Manuel Chiuella, Peruvian agriculture scientist, said a U.S. popcorn producer had commissioned him to develop a strain of variegated corn, with striped white, cherry and yellow kernels.

Chiuella said he has developed a strain with white and cherry stripes which he will now try to hybridize with golden yellow.

Another Tragedy

MRS. ELEANOR SCHUESSLER is in tears after hearing that her husband, Anton, 42, died in a Chicago sanitarium shortly after being admitted there, apparently suffering from a heart attack. The Schuessler children, John, 13, and Anton Jr., 11, were found strangled in a forest preserve area. Also found slain was the boys' companion, Robert Peterson, 14. The murders remain unsolved. WATER SUPPLIES NEEDED ON FARMS

An adequate and convenient supply of water is needed for profitable production of livestock and farm products, says the Farm and Home Development Manual of the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics.

The manual states that water should have plenty of water for the livestock because of the difficulty in obtaining water of good quality in some areas. Farm reservoirs have become a necessity in many areas.

The manual also states that water should be clean and pure. It should be free from any harmful bacteria or other contaminants. It should also be free from any objectionable taste or odor.

SYNOPSIS: Newly married Lora accompanies her husband Wade Tyler to his family home on State Road after having been married for a short time. Wade Tyler is a young man who has just graduated from college and is looking for a job. Lora is a young woman who has just graduated from college and is looking for a job. Wade Tyler is a young man who has just graduated from college and is looking for a job. Lora is a young woman who has just graduated from college and is looking for a job.

CHAPTER TWO
MRS. TYLER'S chair was wheeled to the table and Ellie slipped extra cushions under her. Wade pulled out Lora's chair and touched her shoulder lightly as she took it. The old lady's quick eyes did not miss the gesture and if anything they grew a degree cooler. Lora looked quickly away at the still-life painting which hung above the sideboard—a stiff and depressing representation of dead fish and game. A forbidding picture, she thought, and wondered if Wade could be persuaded to brighten the room with something sayer in spirit.

"Why isn't that boy down, Ellie?" Mrs. Tyler asked the maid as soon as they were settled. "Gracious, ma'am, I've called him three times at least," Ellie defended herself. "I don't know what he's dawdling about." Wade mentioned nothing that it was still only five to six, but his mother merely nodded to him and bowed her head for grace. Wade murmured the words of a rather long grace, during which Jenny sidled into his place. "Good morning, Jenny," his father said when they all looked up. "It's good to see you again. I'm sorry to hear that you were ill yesterday."

Women Have More Interest In Politics

By ELIZABETH TOOMEY

Third Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK 17 — When women want something, they will outwait, outwork and outfox their competition to get it.

Now we have a fresh young generation of women who want careers in politics. They have political backgrounds, their mothers can't match. They grew up, unlike their mothers, in households where women voted as often as the men and did more of the doorbell-ringing, draggery than men had time for in political campaigns.

A training course for these young women with political ambitions opens here this week, specifically designed for the girl who thinks she would like to run for office some day.

The first half dozen girls to sign up for the course have interesting similarities. They have the patience to take the long route to public office; they have demonstrated they are willing to work hard as volunteers in political campaigns; they are well educated—and in almost every case their own mothers were active political volunteer workers.

Terrifically Hard Future

"We assume their enthusiasm will last," said Helen Hobert, a member of the women's national Republican Club which is sponsoring the course for its own chosen a terrifically hard future. It is hard physically and emotionally. We want them to understand what they're up against."

The club agreed to organize the course for its junior group of women members, ranging in age from 17 to 35, after numerous requests. They conducted eight high-ranking women in politics, including Sen. Margaret Chase Smith R-Me., Rep. Katharine St. George R-NY and Rep. Edith Nourse Rogers R-Mass for advice.

Mrs. St. George sent word from Washington that "you must have a sense of humor and the hide of a rhinoceros. Politics is no place for the over-sensitive."

Mrs. Smith's words of advice, which will be read to the ambitious young women at one of the classes, reminded them that "politics is simply home operation on a large scale. Home is government in miniature. The operation of government is not unlike in principle, the basic operation of keeping a home well-regulated."

Indispensable Qualities
Mrs. Rogers listed the qualities

indispensable to a woman politician as "character, courage, health, poise, intelligence and a desire to serve."

Barbara Witzell, a 23-year-old "Girl Friday" in an advertising agency here and one of the 25 young women expected to show up for the first class Thursday night, says she "certainly" hopes to run for Congress some day.

Womanlike, though, these young political aspirants reserve the right to change their minds. They do not put a career above everything.

One of the early registrants dropped out three days ago. She got engaged.

"Oh, no," she said, "but I just don't think I'll have time."

STRIPED CORN

LIMA, Peru 17 — Popcorn may soon come in multi-colored stripes. Manuel Chiuella, Peruvian agriculture scientist, said a U.S. popcorn producer had commissioned him to develop a strain of variegated corn, with striped white, cherry and yellow kernels. Chiuella said he has developed a strain with white and cherry stripes which he will now try to hybridize with golden yellow.

Another Tragedy

MRS. ELEANOR SCHUESSLER is in tears after hearing that her husband, Anton, 42, died in a Chicago sanitarium shortly after being admitted there, apparently suffering from a heart attack. The Schuesslers' children, John, 13, and Anton Jr., 11, were found strangled in a forest preserve area. Also found slain was the boy's companion, Robert Peterson, 14. The murders remain unsolved. LOVE BUG HAS NO AGE LIMIT

MRS. OTTILLIE RICK, 76, plants a shy kiss on cheek of Henry Rosenberg, 77, as they look at their marriage license in Chicago. He's a widower, she's a widow. She said it was love at first sight when they were introduced last summer. (International)
